

Herald/Ron Perry

Maiden flight

Cascade Airways' BAC 1-11 jet flew into the Tri-Cities Thursday afternoon for the first time ever with passengers aboard, after a week of test runs. The plane stopped in Pasco on its way to Seattle. The 79-seat craft is one of two jets in Cascade's fleet.